Re: NASA Surficial Media Field Sampling Plan, Subgroup 3

The Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) invites community members to participate in a technical roundtable meeting and site tour for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) Subgroup 3 draft Surficial Media Field Sampling Plan (FSP).

This is the third in a series of collaborative meetings and site tours being held to involve the community in the planning, development, and implementation of the chemical sampling plan. The purpose of this plan is to complete the investigation of soils, soil vapor, surface water, and shallow groundwater within the area of SSFL administered by NASA.

The meeting agenda will include:

- Brief drive-by of the sites (see list of sites below)
- Technical Roundtable Discussion and working lunch at NASA SSFL Building 203
 - * Please bring your own lunch, water will be provided
- Site Tour
 - * Some walking may be necessary to access the sampling areas, so please wear comfortable walking shoes. Please check the weather to be prepared for the forecast temperature and precipitation conditions.

Participants are welcome to bring cameras.

If you are unable to attend in-person, the discussion portion of the meeting will be available via webcast starting at 10:00 a.m. at the following location:

Meeting ID: eee75f9d07c541f28554e2834ca38783

The roundtable discussion and tour will be led by DTSC technical staff, NASA, and the NASA consultant CH2M Hill, who are involved in the preparation and review of the FSP.

NASA Subgroup 3 focuses on the following sites:

Alpha Test Stand

Bravo Test Stand

The NASA Subgroup 3 FSP document is currently in preparation, and is not yet available for public comment. When the document is available, a notice will be sent to you with a link to the document, the locations of physical review copies, and a second reminder of the December 8 technical roundtable meeting and site tour.
